

Stefano Longhi

Associate
BArch MArch

After joining Bennetts in 2005, Stefano worked on a range of projects including the low-energy remodelling of Hampshire County Council's 1960s office building in Winchester, the New Street Square development in the City of London and the redevelopment of a former Victorian warehouse into the Royal College of Ophthalmologists' new headquarters in Camden. He is currently project architect for the Site T2 commercial development, part of the King's Cross Central masterplan. Stefano is an experienced architect with a particular skill in the detailed design and delivery of projects.

Stefano is interested in the arts and cinema and is a keen traveller, cook, amateur photographer and tennis player.
